

Allevo and CEC Bank Awarded By e-Finance

For our more than 10 years long outstanding collaboration and for the recent qPI-TREZ project, Allevo and CEC Bank have received the e-Partnership Award

Press Release

Osaka, 29 October 2012: About one year ago, in 2011, the successful implementation of qPayIntegrator's functionality extensions - qPI-TREZ and qPI-STM – was completed at CEC Bank. This deployment brought a higher automation of treasury and cash management transactions as well as the optimization of related business flows: treasury markets (FX and money market) and Nostro/Vostro account management.

In February this year, this project, as well as the long lasting fruitful collaboration between Allevo and CEC Bank received a well-deserved recognition. Together with CEC Bank, Allevo was presented with the e-Partnership Award from e-Finance, during the 9th edition of their Awards Gala, one of the most important events for the banking-financial and IT&C communities.

“We believe that the efficient collaboration of the two parties, relying on complementary skills and assets, is instrumental in enabling the bank to continuously provide better and enhanced services to its customers. Therefore, we believe that this past 10 years have only been the foundation of a longer and unique partnership between Allevo and CEC Bank” says Corina Mihalache, Director Business Analysis, Allevo
